

Abstract

Title:

Swimmers age in top competitions in the period 2000–2005

Objective of the thesis:

The thesis objective is to determine the age structure of swimmers in top competitions in the period during years 2000–2005, in selected (butterfly, backstroke, brest, individual medley ) men's and women's events.

Method:

Data collection has been provided by study of the document. The computer analysis of the the collected data has been processed through descriptive statistics using variation and central tendency theorem.

Results:

Gained results provide an overview of the current trend in terms of age range of top level swimmers in selected men's and women's events.

Key words:

Swimmers age, sport's career, top level sports performance